Subject: Application for [Position Title] - Mechanical Fitter / Vehicle Quality Test Driver

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the [Position Title] role at [Company Name]. I currently work as a Mechanical Fitter and Vehicle Quality Test Driver at Maruti Suzuki India Limited's Hansalpur plant in Gujarat, and I am looking to bring this experience to a role in Europe, ideally in Germany, under a work permit.

Over the past year I have worked on two sides of vehicle quality. I started on the gas leak testing and safety assembly line, where I learned to work precisely with pneumatic testing equipment and pressure gauges under strict OEM safety standards. Within a few months I was moved onto the Drive Test team, where I now take newly assembled cars onto the plant track and check their handling, braking, steering feel and gear changes, working alongside senior quality engineers who record the diagnostic data. I have trained myself to notice small noise, vibration and mechanical issues that a car should not have, and to report them clearly back to the assembly line so they get corrected at the source.

Alongside this, I hold a National Trade Certificate in the Fitter trade from NCVT (89.91%), where I trained in bench fitting, precision measuring tools, lathe work and reading engineering drawings, along with a Bachelor of Arts from JNCU. I am comfortable with rotating shift work, and I already hold a valid Indian passport and driving licence, so relocation logistics are not a barrier for me.

I understand that a move to Germany would mean learning German to a working level, and I am ready to begin that right away - I am already looking into language courses. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my hands-on testing and fitting experience could fit into your team, and I am happy to provide any further documents or references you may need.

Thank you for considering my application.

Yours sincerely,
